

Classic 1940's chairs up in lights!

We recently supplied one of our 1940's Edward chairs for the fab, darkly funny and moving play, "Prick up your ears", starring Matt Lucas and Michael Chadwick at London's comedy theatre. According to the prop company the chair gets broken during the story, but gets fixed and re-used for each performance. www.prickupyourearsplay.com

A new look for Alexon stores...

Classic Furniture were approached to help re-vamp three of the six brands owned by the Alexon Group using a mix of outrageously whacky fabrics, scrumptious RAL finishes, ornate feminine furniture and one off pieces of bric a brac. We created a unique look for 24 Alexon concessional stores within House of Fraser, throughout the UK. Alexon are delighted at the outcome of the chairs, and have commissioned Classic to create a similar design for another 24 sites.

NEW Classic website re-launch

At last, it's finally here, the brand new Classic website. With a whole host of really helpful features, such as a "Your Projects" section that allows the customer to save items for future reference, and instant "Email a colleague", the site also shows off our latest projects and newest products.

Start using it now and let us know what you think - www.classicfurniture.co.uk and coming soon... Reclaimed Retro, a website with all our reclaimed furniture and bric a brac in one place.

brand new products

NEW from Cologne 2009

Goya Chair

NEW from Cologne 2009

Werzalit Leopard top

NEW from Cologne 2009

Lama chairs